Warren W. Depew Jr. Accident Victim

Warren Depew, Jr., one of the best known figures in the agricultural life of the district was injured Saturday afternoon last, when trampled beneath the feet of his horses when he went into the barn to bring the team out to take his wife and family back to the farm south of town, after a few hours spent with parents and others in Raymond.

The team had been worked together for a long while, but one of them was mean to kick and the surmise is that when the unfortunate man stepped between them, he was either kicked or had the wind knocked out of him, and fell under the horse, who commenced trampling and kicking him. His father hearing the commotion and fearing something was wrong, rushed to the barn, and seen the unconscious form of his boy under the horses. He pulled him out by the feet, and he was immediately rushed to Lethbridge, but passed away about noon Monday without regaining consciousness. As there were no witnesses to the tragedy, the above is supposition, but the only feasible solution to the sad affair.

FUNERAL SERVICES

The funeral services were held in the Stake House Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. with Bishop H. E. Allen in charge, and W. W. McMullin conducting the choir, with Mrs. R. W. Tolleson at the organ. Hymns were "Come Ye Disciples," and "Sometime We'll Understand." Special numbers were a Quartette by Mrs. E. E. Reithman and Co., "Goin' Home," and a Vocal Solo by Jos. McLean "I Know That My Redeemer Lives."

Bishop James H. Walker of the Raymond Second Ward, and Pres. O. H. Snow, were the speakers, both of whom eulogized the deceased for his faithful and efficient services, where ever he was asked to work, and for his gentlemanly conduct at all times. Both dwelt on the plan of life and salvation, and urged their listeners to be as well prepared in case of a sudden call as was the deceased. They invoked the peace and blessing of heaven on the relatives, and specially on the young wife and two small children left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father.

Seldom has a larger crowd assembled to pay their respects to the dead, which in itself was a splendid tribute to the esteem in which this pioneer family is held. The profusion of floral offerings was also a silent testimonial to the sturdy values in Warren's life which win admiration from all.

Christensen Bros. of Cardston and Lethbridge had charge of arrangements, and a large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery where interment took place.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family in their sorrow.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETING

The Town Council meeting Thursday was occupied mostly with routine business. Several new applications for the Old Age Pension were considered, the payroll was passed, and the work on the dam during the past month discussed and commended, as now the dam is in the best condition it has ever been.

It was decided to investigate the advisability of another Typhoid inoculation, and the Secretary was asked to communicate with the Department of Health in this matter.

W. R. HOWSON, K. C.

Liberal Leader, who will speak at the High School Saturday, August 10th, at 8 p.m. in his second and last speech in the Federal Constituency.

FROM THE LOCAL SOCIAL CREDIT GROUP

Speaking in the House of Commons at Ottawa, in 1927, Mr. Evans, one of the Progress members, read the following extract from the Bankers' Magazine of August 1920:

"Capitol must protect itself in every possible manner through combination and legislation. Debt must be collected and lands and mortgages must be foreclosed as rapidly as possible. When through a process of law, the common people have lost their homes, they will be more tractable, and more easily governed through the influence of the strong arm of the Government applied by a central power of wealth under the control of the leading financiers. A people without homes will not quarrel with their leaders."

Earl Barker of Magrath was here Monday on business at the P. and H. Elevator.

Clark Lund and Waldo Ross of this district are both taking part in the Great Falls Stampede this week. We wish them success.

Don't forget the "Purple Sage Riders" at the Capitol Saturday night. A real group of entertainers on the stage, in the kind of entertainment every one likes.

Dr. G. W. Lech left for Winnipeg Tuesday morning to attend the funeral of his brother's wife, who passed away there over the week-end.

AT THE CAPITOL SATUR-
With "Purple Sage Riders"

U. F. A. Rally And Meeting

A Rally and Basket lunch featured the gathering of Constituency U.F.A. supporters at the School of Agriculture, Tuesday afternoon, where from three o'clock until 7:30, they engaged in games, sports, eats and speeches, the main address of the afternoon being delivered by J. A. Johansen, district Organizer for the Federal Constituency, and who also stayed for the evening meeting in the 2nd Ward Hall at which Premier R. G. Reid was the main speaker.

There were about 100 present on the A. C. grounds, and J. B. Roberts, President of the Raymond Local was in charge. The U.F.A. Candidate James H. Walker, was also a speaker. People were present from every corner of the constituency. Foremost, Milk River, and other far off places being represented.

EVENING MEETING

Over 400 people were present at the meeting in the Second Ward Hall at night, representing every shade of political thought, and paid very good attention to the addresses delivered by James H. Walker, U. F. A. Candidate and Premier R. G. Reid, head of the U.F.A. Government. J. B. Roberts was again in charge.

James H. Walker was the first speaker, and after his expressing his joy at running on the U.F.A. ticket, which organization and government, he claimed, had always stood for the best interests of the farmer, he cited a few of what he considered inconsistencies in the Alberta Social Credit plan, which he introduced may result in schools being closed, hospitals being curtailed in their work, our credit ruined and business paralyzed. The present Government believed in seeing people properly cared for, but it would take time to work out a program that would accomplish his end and still not increase the present burden to those who were carrying on.

Ira McBride sang "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," accompanied at the Piano by his daughter.

PREMIER REID SPEAKS

The Chairman then introduced Premier R. G. Reid, and a burst of applause greeted the speaker as he took the platform.

After expressing his joy at being in Raymond and his pleasure at having such a man as James H. Walker to represent the Government in the campaign, he spoke on the record of the Government and built his remarks around the two catch phrases of the campaign "It's Time for a Change," and "Things could not possibly be worse." He asked, if people want a change, what do they want a change from.

Speaking of the increase in public debt, he stated that the had demanded this, and that highway program of the U.F.A. where there were 234 miles of gravelled highway when the U. F. A. took office in 1921, there were now 2300 miles of main roads, and that this had accounted for $74,000,000 of the increase. This expenditure he stated was for permanent improvement, and there was nothing to be alarmed over that money had been borrowed to finance this. Public expenditure had also increased due to increased demands on the Government in the way of Old Age Pensions, Mother's Allowances, increased inmates in mental institutions, which demands had to be met, and during the worst of the lean years money had to be borrowed to take care of this.

Turning to the change of increased taxation, the speaker stated that while the Revenue had increased, the property tax, which was paid by the man on the land and in his home, had been cut nearly in half. Only two new taxes, the Gasoline Tax and Income Tax had been added by the present administration, and in both cases the speaker stated the Government felt that those best able to pay were carrying the burden of these taxes. At that, said he, the gasoline tax in Alberta was low, or lower, than any other Province in Canada. Referring to education the Premier stated that more children were attending school now than ever before, the average school year was longer, and more pupils were going on into High School each year. All signs of progress and success, but, said he, at Summer School now, teachers are studying changed curriculum to fit the times to a greater degree than the present one. This will be tried out this year, and if successful will be put to work throughout the Province next year, in the Grade schools, and then gradually worked into the High School program.

Refuting the charge that the present administration was a creature of the big interests the speaker mentioned the deal for the northern railways, the Debt Adjustment legislation, the prosecution of a financial magnate a few years ago, all against the advice of the big interests but they carried out their plans.

The natural resources of the Province had returned a nice revenue to the Province since being taken over, and we had untold wealth to develop. But, said the speaker, this will take time, and we want to act in the interests of the people at all times, as these are their rights, and we are merely guardians of them. With the statement that the oil fields of the U.S. would be exhausted in the course of thirteen years, the eyes of oil men were turning to Alberta, and he looked for a rapid development in this respect in the near future.

Believing that Western Canada had paid tribute to the industrialists of the East long enough, he had wired Ottawa urging a price of 80c. for wheat, and was hopeful that the agitation would be carried on until this was obtained. The East was beginning to realize that their prosperity hinged on the prosperity of the West, and he was hopeful that there would be a better spirit of co-operation than there had been. All we need is a market for our primary products, and the West will be rich again. This he felt was near at hand.

Alberta was the most progressive province of the Dominion and was being watched now. He hoped that people would be sane and thoughtful, and that when they marked their ballot on August 22nd that they voted for what will be permanent improvement and solidity, and not be swept away with some tricks that could not be put into operation.

The singing of the "National Anthem" closed the meeting, and then a dance was held on the Open Air Pavilion for all who desired to enjoy this pastime for an hour or two.

Several local Rotarians were in Lethbridge yesterday to the Club Luncheon there.

District Governor Visits its Local Rotarians

THE HON. R. G. REID

Government Leader, who on Tuesday evening at the Second Ward Hall spoke on the record of the U. F. A. Government.

SUNDAY EVENING

CONJOINT

A very enjoyable meeting was held in the Stake House Sunday evening under the direction of the two Ward Mutuals, it being the monthly Conjoint meeting. Members of Lethbridge Ward furnishing the numbers, and the large audience thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the meeting.

Elder Marion G. Merkley was the speaker of the evening, and gave a very interesting talk on "Appreciating Our Heritage and Our Church." His talk was full of timely illustrations, and thoughts as to what we should appreciate these gifts and how we could show this appreciation.

Several vocal numbers were rendered, and an orchestra was present, whose numbers were exceptionally good, especially the stringed arrangement of "The Rosary," which brought forth many favorable comments for the harmony and melody which this rendition brought out.

The Lethbridge artists will always be welcome with a program in Raymond.

"PURPLE SAGE RIDERS"

The Capitol theatre brings to its stage on Saturday for one day only, Harry Fletcher's celebrated Purple Sage Riders a group of radio and stage stars from the leading Western programs which have been delighting radio listeners of the west from such prominent radio stations as KNX, KMTR, KFWB, and KFI.

Fletcher, producer and manager of the aggregation, is responsible for bringing many of the popular cowboy tunes to the radio, and will be remembered for his presentation of the Arizona Wranglers several seasons ago.

One of the highlights of the presentation of the "Purple Sage Riders," offered in addition to the wide variety of melody and comedy, is the appearance of Texas Tommy, who for the past ten years has appeared in western pictures with the leading cowboys, with his educated horse, "Baby Doll." The talented steed displays almost human intelligence as he entertains in a most unique and highly pleasing manner. Texas Tommy highlights his act with an unusual display of roping, whip cracking and pistol man-

A full program of motion pictures will be offered by Manager Brewerton of the Capitol during the personal appearance of the Purple Sage Riders.

The Second Ward Chapel was the scene of a very enjoyable party and meeting last night, when local Rotarians welcomed the District Governor Albert Oulton, of Saskatoon and listened to his message and encouragement for their work.

L. L. "Lambert" Pack, President of the local Club was in charge, and with the members of the Raymond Outpost were about 20 members and partners from Lethbridge, who with the partners of the local group made an attendance of about 80 people. The program commenced with the singing of "O Canada," which was followed by two numbers from the Howard boys, and the introduction of the visitors by Secretary Frank Hall. W. C. Stone led in Community Singing, after which Jas. E. Meeks introduced the District Governor.

FOUR LANE HIGHWAY OF ROTARY

The Governor spoke on the four lane highway of Rotary, and by stories, personal contact and study outlined how best Rotarians might serve in these various lanes and prove themselves real Rotarians, instead of merely Rotary members. Stressing the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service the speaker stated that unselfish service to fellowmen was the foundation of Rotary, and that until members grasped this their Rotary activities would not have the effects they should. "Club Service is the soul service of the men who make up Rotary."

Turning to the High Standards in Business and Occupations expected from Rotarians, he stated that with 161,000 Rotarians in 3,874 Clubs that one could not imagine the results if this army worked on the principle of do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you. In ethics he said, remember that someone is looking upon you as an example, and keep in mind that anything you do will assist that idealist to something better or less desirable.

The application of Rotary ideals in the personal activity of the member in his individual, vocational and community was stressed, and the Governor stated that Rotary should seek out and foster projects for the benefit and advancement of the community, but to endeavor to carry them out through the organized agencies rather than to have them under the name of Rotary.

International Understanding and Good will were stressed as an opportunity for far reaching action on the part of Rotary. Our aim was to suppress war and destruction through better understanding of one another's problem, and greater love for our fellowmen, which could only be accomplished by effort on the part of every Rotarian.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch, served by the Second Ward Relief Society were greatly enjoyed, after which a short dance was held on the Open Air Pavilion, which was greatly enjoyed by the crowd.

The Governor continued on to Cardston today (Friday) to meet with the Cardston Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dahl and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heagerty returned home Wednesday night from a motor trip which took them through the Crow's Nest Pass to Nelson B. C., south to Spokane, and home over Logan Pass. They report a very enjoyable trip.

WHO IS ON TRIAL?

In his speech Tuesday evening, Premier Reid made the statement that in his opinion it was the people, rather than the Government who were on trial, or will be on trial August 22nd. Since hearing this we have been mulling the thing over in our minds, and believe with the Premier that it is the people and not the present Government, nor any other Government, who will be on trial at voting day.

It is hardly the common practice to fire a man who is doing satisfactory work and carrying on well, and hire in his stead one of whom you know absolutely nothing, who has never been tried, and whose only guarantee is his promises is it? Yet that is what Social Credit supporters want to do. On the other hand, one would hardly desire to fire a $50 a month man and hire in his stead a man to do the same work, no better, and pay the new hired man $100 a month. And yet, in essence that is what the Liberal party are asking voters to do. This administration in power for 16 years up to 1921, made a record for free spending, that in some cases the present administration is still working to try and square up.

This comparison is mentioned merely to bring home to the readers the status of Provincial conditions. The talk that things could not be worse is false, and those who continue to make this statement are only telling half the truth when they work on people's minds to get them to believe it. Things could be much worse and we believe may be unless voters are careful on election day to vote for sound policies.

Anyone who listened to Premier Reid Tuesday night, regardless of their politics could not help but be impressed by his sincerity, and his willingness to let the record of his labors stand or fall on its merits. He wasted no time belittling opposition, or other schools of thought, and more than to merely suggest that the voters think well before they endorse any plan that will throw out of balance our present good standing. It is regrettable that this statement cannot be made as truly about all party leaders as it can about the Hon. Mr. Reid. Whatever his ideas on these matters, he kept them to himself.

It would be well too, for the voters to remember that legislation as passed at the Provincial House is the sum total of requests, suggestions and demands, brought from every corner of this province, and that where we have asked for more and better roads, new bridges, new schools, new Hospitals, and Government services of any kind we have been a party to these increases, for which we freely score the Government. Under our present system these services must be paid for in cash. To date we have not been able to gather it at all as some think we should be able to do.

If the people of the Province are, on trial on August 22nd, then Mr. Voter, consider well the future of Alberta, and the effect your vote may have on it. We believe that every sane man and woman are interested in their fellowmen and want to see them prosper. Yes, we believe even those whom we term the idle rich and the 'big shots' frequently referred to, are interested in seeing everyone provided for. But, as a means in justice, to effect this, we are stalled. Many claim to have a solution, but on close examination there is a loop hole in the remedy somewhere, and no satisfactory way has been found.

We are of the opinion that these experiences are a part of our training. That we dislike them goes without saying, and yet, everyone must admit it is a test of character as to those who will exert themselves to carry on in the face of discouragement and defeat, and those who have more wishbone than backbone, and make themselves and everyone else miserable and dissatisfied, because they don't make it go and their neighbor across the fence does, and then because their neighbor is successful he is a crook and a grafter, and he ought to have his granary raided and its contents divided among his UNLUCKY neighbors.

It appears that we are at the crossroads. One school of thought is of the opinion that our present system is alright, with a few changes and tuning up again. The other school says it's all wrong. We can get money out of the end of a fountain pen, we can improve our natural resources over night we can sell all our produce at our price, regardless of the law of supply and demand, and we can follow our hobbies for employment, instead of joining in the army of those who produce tangible wealth. Each school has its supporters naturally. Which of the two sounds most feasible, and which do you expect to support. Again we say, consider well.

Business should go on. Our schools should continue to operate. Our hospitals, mental institutions, etc, need to go on, and our credit needs to be preserved and safeguarded. Regardless of personal interest and likes and dislikes these facts should be remembered and considered before the ballot is marked.

Editor

The Raymond Recorder,
Dear Sir:

On Tuesday the U.F.A. held forth in picnic, meeting and dance, and for the first time in our locality, the general public had the opportunity of hearing our local aspirant for the Warner constituency M.L.A., Mr. J. H. Walker. Also of hearing the report and promises of our recent Premier, Mr. Reid.

After listening to Mr. Walker's twenty minutes or more, exposition of "Social Credit," following his statement that he has "Studied it from every possible angle", I wonder what I have been studying for the past year. Apparently Mr. Walker has been studying the Brownlee, Lymburn, Davidson or Dr. Egbert brand rather than that of Douglas or Aberhart.

There is an old saying which it might be well to bring to Mr. Walker's attention at this time, as follows: "If you have a crooked stick don't explain how crooked it is—where it bends, twists and turns; merely lay a straight one along beside it, and even a fool will be able to discern its crookedness." Now if Mr. Walker has anything to offer us, either in the present system or a new platform, let him lay it before us in truth and sincerity and in a straightforward manner and we will see for ourselves where the straight stick lies.

The People are convinced that Social Credit offers them the most plausible remedy for the present situation, the U.F.A. promises us, to use the words of Mr. Reid, that "The Public Debt Must of Necessity Increase." Fellow citizens ask yourselves, "Is this the remedy you want?" I think not. Thanking you for your space, I remain Yours truly,
A. E. Haneock.

Editor, Raymond Recorder,
Dear Sir:

May I through your pages greet the Raymond Social Credit Study Group

Dear Social Credit Students:

Please accept my greetings. Since leaving Raymond I have addressed thirty-three audiences in five constituencies and have noted several things: Everywhere Social Credit is very strong and is growing stronger. Earnest, thoughtful, public-spirited men and women are leading it and are surprisingly well-informed and eager to learn. They realize that we are in the midst of one of the world's greatest struggles for the rights of mankind. Their eyes are piercing right through the elaborate smoke screens which various interests are using to draw our attention from the real issue.

Social Credit people must read the signs aright. Sir Josiah Stamp the other day in London called our movement a "peril" He is a great orthodox economist. His words are being quoted against us. Who is he? Sir Josiah is a director of The Bank of England. The Bank of England is a leader among the Financiers. These financiers, according to Douglas, are contriving to enslave us and our descendants. Social Credit is moving to save us from Sir Josiah and his like. Yes, it is a peril to him.

We have in Alberta, now, an Economic Safety League. Whose economic safety? Sir Josiah's again, more than likely.

And so the struggle goes on. Let no one forget the real issue. The Social Credit Party of Aberhart is the only party pledged to the one object—financial reform. It is bigger than any person or personal consideration.

Yours in the Cause,
Jno. H. Blackmore.

EXPERIMENTAL STATION LETHBRIDGE

WEEKLY LETTER

WINTER WHEAT

The time of year has arrived when farmers who are planning to seed winter wheat will be giving some thought to this crop. The acreage devoted to winter wheat has increased considerably in recent years, and from inquiries received, it appears that the acreage seeded to winter wheat this fall will exceed that of last fall to a considerable extent.

In the early years of this station's operations, an experiment was conducted to determine the best date for seeding winter wheat. From the results obtained, we recommend seeding as close to the First of September as possible. Many farmers have been in the habit of seeding much earlier than this date and in certain seasons Root Rot has caused considerable damage. In the same seasons, this disease was found to be prevalent in Montana and other Western States. Investigations in Montana to determine the cause of this disease, indicated that it was much more prevalent where early seeding was practised, but that the fields seeded from September 1st on seemed to escape damage from this disease.

The real reason for this letter is to caution farmers not to sow their winter wheat earlier than September 1st, owing to the fact that wheat seeded the first week in September will not make a great deal of growth and will not control soil drifting as much as would be desired, but it is thought by some to provide a little protection. The practice of seeding winter wheat in stubble is perhaps still in the experimental stage, although the results obtained for the last half dozen years have been somewhat promising.

An experiment has also been conducted to determine the best rate of seeding, and our results seem to indicate that one bushel per acre is the best rate to recommend for summer-fallow land.

The variety in common use in the district is Kharkov, and at present there is no variety under test at the station which we would recommend in preference to Kharkov. A strain of this variety known as Kharkov M. C. 22 was introduced to the district a few years ago, and has been giving good results. It is a strain which originated at MacDonald College at Quebec and was selected as the best of a number of strains tested, on account of its winter hardiness and yielding capacity.

An examination of the yields obtained from winter wheat and from spring wheat on summer-fallow land in different rotation at the station where a proper comparison for these two crops can be drawn, show that the average yield of these two crops have been fairly close. Results obtained at the station over a period of the past 23 years show that winter wheat has out-yielded spring wheat to a slight extent the average yield of winter wheat being 27.31 bushels per acre, and that of spring wheat, 25.92 per acre. These crops were grown on summer fallowed land in both cases. During the 23-year period, the winter wheat plot killed out completely in only one season. The plot was seeded to spring wheat the following spring.

YOU CAN'T STOP
STOKING A STEAM
ENGINE -- SAID WRIGLEY

Interviewed, and asked to what he attributed his phenomenal success, the late Mr. Wrigley, of chewing gum fame, replied, "To the consistent advertising of a good product."

"But," asked the reporter, "having captured practically the entire market, why continue to spend vast sums annually in advertising?"

Wrigley's reply was illuminating.

On a having raised steam in an engine, he stated, it requires continuous stoking to keep it up. Advertising stokes up business and keeps it running on a full head of steam.

This applies to YOUR business, too. Don't make a secret of your product. Tell people about it. Tell them what it does. Tell them its advantages. Tell them where to get it. Tell them through the Press and keep on telling them.

Never before have you seen such bargains in standard current-model combines backed by over 100 years of harvest machine experience. Never before have you had an opportunity to change over to the time and grain-saving combine method on such an advantageous basis.

Purchase of a combine is a very important investment. You are buying it for 10 years or more of harvesting. Each year will be exactly as important to you as this first year. That is why combine service is just as valuable and vital to you as the combine itself. Be sure you get both!

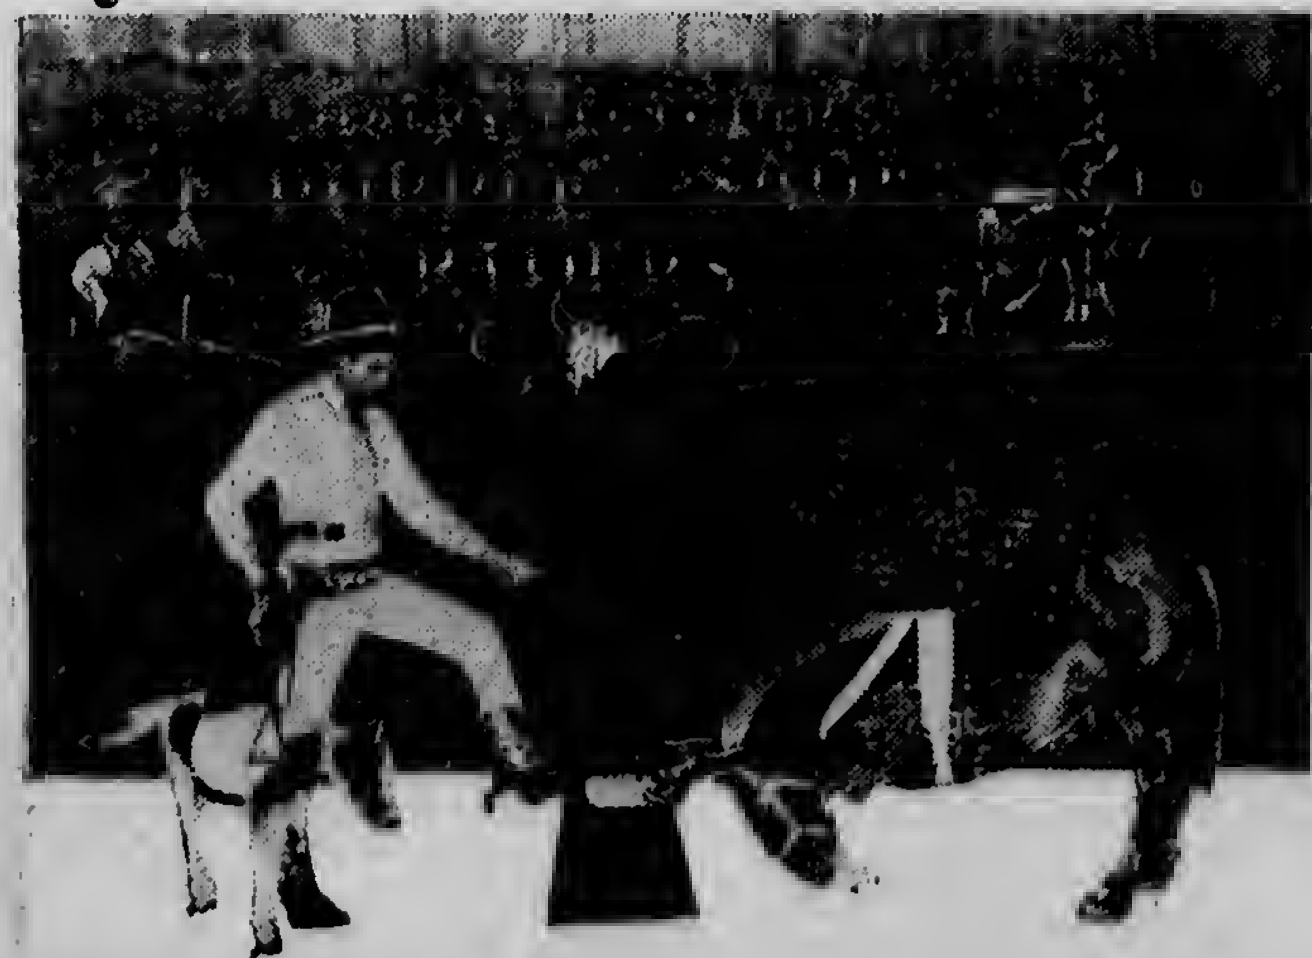

McCormick-Deering No. 8 and No. 11 Combines are great values even at their regular prices. At their special new prices they are such "buys" that you cannot afford to let them get away from you.

We will give you complete information and quote you the new low prices on these brand-new 10, 12, and 16-foot machines on request.
